To the RATE-PAYERS

of

LINDSAY:

I want to thank all those who supported me in the election for 1950, and all those who worked on my behalf.

1950 should have a good Council, and I hope they will have every success in giving sound administration for the coming year.

Lindsay must go ahead, or it will go back. See that your Council carries out your wishes

An Editorial:

ANOTHER CLOSE CONTEST

Citizens of Lindsay were immensely interested in see-saw battle for the mayoralty waged Monday ween Charles Lamb and R. I. Moore. It was the second consecutive close contest between these two men and the outcome in both instances has indicated that each was strongly entrenched among his own supporters.

The decision gives Mr. Lamb an opportunity to carry out his program of economy, which will no doubt be watched with interest.

U.S. REVIVAL SEEN STEADYING INFLUENCE HERE

"The trend of business has flattened out", says the current Monthly Review of the Bank of Nova Scotia, "Employment has stopped rising and in the Scotia. "Employment has stopped rising and in the last few months has barely held at the previous year's level. Consumer spending has been levelling out... Capital investment has continued at a very high level, but in some directions it is slackening . . . Export demands have been declining."

Pointing out that 1949 was a year of unusual prosperity for most parts of Canada, the Review states that the business outlook is a mixed one. The coming year will probably be "one of increasing difficulty for overseas exports, even if the countries concerned make substantial progress in enlarging their sales to Canada and the United States. It is likely that capital in-vestment and re-equipment in the manufacturing industries and in agriculture will be at a somewhat lower

On the other nand "here is good reason to expect the continuance for some time of a high level of capital investment in connection with resource development, housing, public utilities, roads, health, education and other musicipal services. In addition, the recent business revival in the United States re-moves at least for the time beling the gloomy prospect of a universal contraction in export markets and exeran important sustaining influence in this that the best of employment, the Review observes that the broad picture is still (clearly one of high employment. At the same time, there is increasing evidence that the abortage of labour has eased and fa some localities that surpluses exist. Although the volume of unemployment is still small, unemployment this year has been consistently above the extraordinarily low levels of 1997 and 1919.

OTHERS SAY ALERT ELECTORATE NEEDED

In reading news reports of nomination meetings throughout Western Ontario, one is shocked at the poor attendance of rate-payers and the complete indifference of the citizens to municipal affairs. In many places it has been impossible to fill all offices acclamation

Those who receive office without any sign of a contest probably feel that they are receiving complet endorsement and that the public is perfectly satisfied In some cases this may be true, but it appears that lack of interest on the part of the taxpayers is closer to the answer. Many municipalities have found it difficult to secure men of any standing to qualify it difficult to sociare men of any standing to quasily with the results that many are spowersed by incompetents. It is not so long ago that we fought in a war to preserve our right to choose our or way government, municipal, provincial and federal. The conduct public business without an alert electorate is dangerous—It leads to socialism and communishm and many abuses of office—Fort Eight Times

ADOLESCENTS MOST REASONABLE

ADOLESCEN'S MOST RASONABLE

The greatest contribution growth of adolescents is to view the vicinistudes of the period as challenges rather than conflicts, writes Dr. Mary I. Northway in an article, "Expanding Horizons" in the current issue of Health, Canadá's national health magazine published by the Health League of Ganada.

"The greatest problem the adolescent faces today is the fact that we have come to think and deal with him as "A Problem," says Dr. Northway who is As-sistant Professor of Pschology, University of Toronto, and a member of the staff of the Institute of Child Study. Her approach to the subject is sympathetic, understanding and intelligent, and it is her view that 'adolescents are extremely reasonable.

Stating that the "tumultous teens" have become a favorite topic of our times, Dr. Northway comments that had adolescents ever time or inclination to read all the material written about them they would become overwhelmed with their own importance and unbearable to themselves and their elders.

Dr. Northway says that from her association with Dr. Northway Says that from her association was adolescents she noted certain general characteristics, they are very busy, but sometimes lazy, they like to talk, and, on the whole, are reasonable creatures.

BROWN CHRISTMAS

forsake me, then the Lord will take me up." (Psa 27:10).

".... God, my Maker, who giveth songs in the night." (Job 33:10).
"At midnight Paul and Silina prayed, and sang praise unto God." Our climatic experience of the last few days makes the term "green Christmas" an inappropriate antonym for "White Christmas". There was nothing green about this Christmas at all. It was soggy in - (Acts 16:25) "In the night His song shall be with me." (Psn. 42:8). he middle, crusted with grey paste, and brown all over—dark, dirty brown. It is euphemistic silliness to call a snowless southern Ontario Christmas green. to call a snowless southern Unitario Christmas green.
Let's get another name for it: brown, black, billious Christmas. Anything but green; that is too pleasant a name for it. What's green about it anyway, excepting the roisterer's bile?—Peterborough Examiner

Some papers are treating this as the end of first half of the twentieth contury. The question arose in 1900 as to whether that year was the end of the nine-teenth contury or the beginning of the twentieth. After much discussion, it was pretty generally agreed that the twentieth century would begin on the first half of January 1901. Otherwise the first century would have had only 89 years. That being the case, the first half of the present century will not be concluded till the 31st of December 1969—a year for the present of t

THE LAST WORD

Perhaps the best comment on this whole comic-book controversy is to be found in the action of a group of publishers and distributors who discontinued 25 of their regular publications — apparently on the ground that they would not stand inspection when the law came into effect this week. That is their own judgement on their own works, and it should be final.

FOR THE RECORD:

POSTSCRIPT TO THE "LAST WORD"

Now that the crime comic book has been taken care of it only remains for someone to dispose of the care on the only remains for someone to dispose of the orill influence allegedly exercised by radio crime thrillers, newspaper crime comic strips and crime movies. As it now stands crime comic books appear to have been discriminated against.

A TIME FOR RESOURCEFULNESS

A Time FOR RESOURCEFORMORY

Much is being written nowadays on the subject of unemployment which seems to be on the increase across Canada. Unfortunately the commentaries on the situation appear to be critical without being constructive and this attitude will accomplish nothing.
In other words there is too great a tendency to lie down and bewall this state of affairs without making much affort to remedy it.

much effort to remedy it.

Unemployment has come to be considered, like so many other things, a problem for the state to solve. While admitting that government work projects may give some temporary relief to the situation there is reason to believe that the real remedy like closer to home. It indicates a six and on the part convertibless only previous in every section of Cavada.

sourcedulesa on the part of industry and on the part of all employable persons in every section of Canada. Industry, for example, owes it to the community in which it is located to make every effort to natitatin a high level of employment and it has a right to appet full cooperation from employees in stripts to attain this end. Employable persons without 100s one it to themselve it will approxibe persons without the contract of the contract o profitable basis.

Unemployment calls for a creative attitude on the part of the unemployed; especially among those with special talent along certain lines. In many instances, with proper application, new, small businesses may be created which in turn will require the services of others, all contributing in a measure to the better ment of the situation.

Careful consideration of the situation at hand, plus an honest application of available remed onders in avoiding and alleviating the dis-work wonders in avoiding tress of unemployment.

This is a time for resourcefulness and not for the problem of growing unemployment.

From the front pages of thousands of newspapers From the front pages of thousands of newspapers throughout the English-speaking world two people have been grinning—with that type of box-office appeal so dear to the heart of Hollywood press agents. The two? Clark Gable and former Lady Sylvia Ashley, the latter once the wife of "the" Douglas Farbasson. Gable has just married Ashley. Each has been married three times before. Both are now starting on their fourth matrimontal adventure. This is the business. But has the time not arrived for the application of the soft pedal on this type of publicity-conscious sensationalism?

A series of letters dealing with outcome of the election at Lindsay have been received by the Post and all have been published. The election is now over ten days old and it seems pointless to continue over ten days old and it seems pointiess to continue a controversy about something which can not be changed at least until another election rolls around. In a democracy the majority vote rules and no one would have it otherwise. Once the people have given a decision it thehourse everybody to work in the best Interests of the town. The demand for telephone equipment has been at an unusually high level overywhere since the end of the war, and the supply is just beginning to catch up. Dial telephone equipment for Lindsay is due this Spring and will go into service just as fast as it can be installed.

We're doing our best:

More people using more telephones: An increase of over 100% in tele-phones since 1939 has crowded Lindsay's switchboards with 18,000 calls daily - more than double the number ten years ago. And the vol-ume is still growing.

The first 100 years are usually said to be the hardest but it seems as though this expression is doomed to give way to "the first 50 years are the hardest," at least in point of agreement as to when they have been attained.

KITCHEN DRUDGERY

KITCHEN DRUDGERY

It is quite true that in the average household drudgery in the kitchen has been greatly reduced, but there is a long way to go yet before it is eliminated for the mass of the housewives.

Listening to a radio commercial from a Buffalo station on Thursday afternoon, in the promotion of better kitchens, one was amazed to learn, and this by expert survey, that the average housewife spent 4½ hours every day performing tasks in the kitchen. And in ten years, a housewife prepared 57,000 meals; in 40 years it would be 228,000 meals. And if one wants to get into astronomy, figure the average number of dishes used each meal and multiply by the number of days in 40 years and then by the number of meals If each dish were placed side by side, they would string around the world.

And despite the record of monotonous kitchen drudgery, there is an honest doubt whether an aver-age housewife would prefer for a Christmas gift from husband or family, a labour-saving device for the kitchen to a handsome fur coat. We are betting on the coat.-The St. Catharine Standard

SECURITY IS RELATIVE

One of the inherent, justifiable desires of elderly people is to be considered a part of the family, the community, and the country to which they belong.

community, and the country to which they belong. This sense of belonging carries the corollary lists whilever security they receive through, old-age pensions or assistance is part of the over-all financial budget of, the state and nation. It must be related to the total examings of the people and to other versions of the local and general governments. The people of California, including presumably some portion of the maturer voters, have recognized this fact in the referendum early this month which repeated as water constitutional admendment adopted by initiative and referendum only a year before of samebody's income.

The truest sense of sharing that an older person can experience is one that is related to the over-all fortunes and well-being of the family, the state, or the economy to which he belongs. Such security—in fact, all material security—is relative, but with it still goes the sense of belonging to the community.

The Christies Science Mutter. The Christian Science Monitor

"Philosophy for Living" was the topic discussed by Dr. C. C. Lang, Assistant State 4-H Club Leader, Co-operative Extension Work, Ohio State University in his main address before the entire Short Course Group at the Ontario Agricultural College. Said he, uroup at the Ontario Agricultural College. Said he,
"Some'd the essential factors of living are Knowledge, Culture, 'Pricadahly and Society. In obtaining knowledge the successful man must cultivate an open-mind.
Said Voltairs, "I do not agree with a word you say,

WHEN IS THE HALFWAY MARKS

WHEN: IS THE HALFWAY MARK?

Was there a year 0? Since a child does not have his first birthday until he has, lived a year, it is reasonable to suppose that Christ, on whose birthday our calendar is predicted, was not considered a year old until Abl. Therefore, there was a year between BC, and A.D. I. Although the hith ceiting most Dioughase Exiguats, who is reputed to have begun the custom of dading the calendar from the birth of Christ, may have imade a, mikinka and left out the Christ, may have imade a, mikinka and left out the cannot, may have made a, murakee, and let out the year 0, later people do, not give much heed to scholarly statements that the twentieth century did not begin until the year 1901. The year 1900 was ushered in with ceremony and delebrations as the dawn of the new century. So on January 1st, 1950, we are pre-pared to greet the second half of the twentieth century, and if we live to January 1st, 2,000 A.D. we shall then celebrate the beginning of the 21st century shall then celebrate the beginning of the Class cancupy of the Christian set wait to val, to calculate the form pedants had resture and learner that the form pedants had resture until January 18t. 18th the set with the set of the s

PARKING PERMITS FOR PROFFSSIONAL MEN - -

By a majority vote Town Council has rescinded a clause in its parking meter by-law which made Lind-say's professional men eligible for parking permits for their cars. Under the terms of the amended by-law, permits will only be available to commercial law, permits 'will only be available to commercial which coperations be privilege formerly granted professional men operating cars, it was contended by some that to continue to grant them permits was to defeat the purpose of the meters — to relieve traffic consecution. Closer sortility of this contention reveals at it be less plaintle than it at fart presents its elike. It is readily apparent that if space in front of a partial meter is coupled, it matters not whether the area is owned by a professional man or a layman—it still is nor available to any other uses. is not available to any other user.

is not available to any other user.

There are several obvious reasons for giving special consideration to certain classes of professional men whose business makes it necessary for them to use their cars in metered areas. Doctors, for example, use their cars is metered areas. Dectors, for example, frequently-base to make hurried and important calls to pharmacists in the downtown area, A parking permit could save them needless delay in carrying out urgant business. Lawyers, to cite another class of professional men using cars, while perhaps not requestly in a great hurry to get parking space, could conceivably find it very embarrassing to keep the meter paid up. Discussions with clients often last considerable time and any interruptions could prove annoying to their clients and detract from concentration on vital mattern.

tion on vital matters.

There are doubt)ess other factors which show need for special consideration to at least some professional class motorists but those cited are typical and augur well for it. Thus it seems the matter resolves itself to one concerning fees for, and duration of, special to one conewning fees for, and duration of, special privileger, rather than reasons for.

Perhaps Council could still be prevailed upon to extend the privilege to deserving classes of professional men at a fee in keeping with the service rendered. Or, so another alternative, the permits might be granted on a limited time basis, the time period to be indicated on the permit which could be displayed on the windshield for the meter inspector to be guided by. In any event it should not be summarily dismissed without due consideration to all the facts.

ARE FARM ORGANIZATIONS CONCERNED FOR THE FARMER OR FOR THEMSELVES?

In these days of dropping farm prices farm organ-izations are raising their voices in a plea for sub-sidies for farm products. They forecast the doom of the agricultural industry if the price of farm products the agricultural industry if the price of farm products in our maintained at a high level and generally bewail the economic plight of the industry. They do not however, seem to be overly concerned with the quality of the products produced on the nation's farms and upon which the nation's health, is, to a larger extent than is generally realized, dependent. Neither do these pressure groups seem to be greatly concerned with exploring means of reducing production costs.

As a result of this unbalanced attitude, the think-As a result of this unbalanced attitude, the bini-public has become concerned with the sincerty of their motives. The consumers feel that any organi-zation which professes to have the interests of agri-culture at heart should be concerned with its general structure if the greatest benefits are to accrue to farmer and consumer alike.

Everyone wants a prosperous farming industry in Canada but they also expect of the farmer what they expect of any producer, the best possible product at a price consistent with their ability to pay which will allow the farmer a reasonable operating profit.

A closer study of all the factors in farm production and marketing by the farmers themselves is the industry's only hope of coping with changing econ-

Appeals to this type of motorist, who displays an absolute lack of consideration to those who walk, seem to be fruitless. There is however, one way that every pedestrian who is a yieling of this kind of driver can get even and that is by reporting the matter to the police and asking that action be taken.

MORE ABOUT SUNDAY SPORTS MORE ABOUT SUNDAY SPORTS

The Regina Leader-Post has commented in a very interesting manner on the subject of Sunday Sports. It presents the problem in a somewhat different light than has hitherto been done and readers may find its views interesting at this timey. ...
Under the caption "Use of Sunday" the Leader-

Post writes:

"It is amazing how symbathetically interested the sporting magnates have become in the working man. We claim these magnates are more interested in the working man's pocket-book than in the development of his personality. Sundays savor of large gate re-

"With a forty-hour week, and the tendency of making Saturday a holiday, the working man is not sport starved in our time. No one interferes with a working man enjoying recreation on Sunday. He may spend the day as he wishes. It is a silly argument to claim that a city is asleep or clead on Sunday unless there is "a midway" blaring in one's ears or unless there is "a midway" blaring in one's ears or a parade to a ball park."

"Has not the modern man enough initiative to arrange his own recreation and reinxation for one day without scores of people being compelled to work on 'Sunday, to provide for him?"

FOR THE RECORD:

Mayor Chas. Lamb has told the Post that neither he nor the incoming Council were privileged to use any of the town's offices for the purpose of holding a caucus prior to the inaugural meeting. He contends a caucus prior to the inaugural meeting. He contends that this was the reason for calling the meeting elsewhere and feels this course of action was justified, where and feels this course of action was justified, equiesses can turn out to be and, if it is not possible for incoming councils to meet in full session in the town's offices prior to their inaugural meeting, it would appear to be in their own beet interests to wait until them before undertaking any appointments. rk attempted under other than open conditions is

The baskets are scarred and worn and best by time and the kicking of many angry shoes, but the trays are polluhed and scrubbed like the dish? What is the point of all this! What is un ash tray for? and and tray is sint meant to hold bonbons for after dinner, is it, or hold "brench dressing for the salad? Then why? Why? Answer this someone. Why is if that more securing proder goes into an old clambell than into the tennis cup won back in 1937, and now heady tarnished!

Save in rare instances, and perhaps in modern houses, ash trays are not things of rare beauty, de-signed by Raphael, Leonardo or Norman Bel Geddes. They are containers for ashes, no more. They are little models, the caviar or roe if you like, of the big little models, the caviar or roe is you use, of use og, ash cans which take such a banging around outside the window before daybreak. They are not beleweled, bedeeked or gold-plated, nor are they engraved "Him" and "Her". They are nothing. They are just ash trays. They sell for a dime a dozen in many stores, and probably the people who manufacture them do not even belong to a wroner union. not even belong to a proper union.

not even belong to a proper union.

Making sah trays cannot be the highest level of skilled labor, for even a clam can do it, or a whelk, or a scallop. Then, from such origins, why must they be kept clean? Do women try to make themselves out as better than a clam? Now don't shut up like one, not this time. Just answer this, one. Why?

Women admire the trivial mementos of court-Women admire the trivial mementes of contri-ship—often admire then much more than the result, which is the bridgeroom. But do they save ash, the theory of the same than the same than the same theatre situhe, dead flowers, programs, old fratemity pins and candy boxes, but they do not save ash trays. Taken to dinner at an expensive restaurant brays on our walls off with an ash tray as a keepsake. Matches perhaps, but not ash trays.

perhaps, but not ash trays.

Then why is it, as soon as the sentence about forsaking all others has been read, they take up ash trays? Into ash trays generally and trays from the sent trays and the paper. Into the cleaning of ash trays goes set magning supper. Into the cleaning of ash trays goes strength and that should go into waxing of the kitchen floor.

More Books For The Scrap Heap

In Ontario, they're going to scrap the public school geography presently in use. It's high time! The fact that for, years, the study of geography has pictured Canada as a land wallowing in an over-abundance of cantural resources is alarmag indeed. That this may have contributed to an attitude of undus complacency are a result of which seems of the property of the contributed to an attitude of undus complacency. "as a result of which people have become profilgate in their exploitation of our natural resources" is re-cognized by the Minister of Education.

The Hon. Dans Porter says pupils have not been told (as they should have all along) that if you burn up your forests or cut them down without making adequate provision for regrowth, the whole economy suffers. There will be a more realistic approach to the question in teaching from now on, he assures.

Woodland World hopes conservation concepts will be worked into a wide range of subjects, history, health, recreation, chemistry (for example, how new uses for wood waste can and have been developed). The sooner educators all across Canada banish text-books that give a distorted picture of our resouce situ-ation, the more, secure will be our future. -(Woodland World)

Mercy Killing:

N.H. Doctor Who Ended Elderly Woman's Suffering Revives an Untamed Tempest

By RICHARD KLEINER NEA Staff Correspondent

Should Human Life be snuffed ut to relieve endices suffering?

Public attention is again focused on that controversial problem that remains unsolved despite millions of words written and spoken, both pro and con.

A New Hampshire doctor's "mercy killing" of an elderly woman dying of cancer, is the latest case to stir up the debate over euthanasia which first became widespread in 1915 as an aftermath of the famous Bollinger baby case.

Oddly, the 1915 case wasn't a mercy killing at all, in the strict sense of the term.

A baby was born in Chicast to a woman named Bollinger. D. Harry J. Haiselden, chief of staff a the hospital, saw that the baby we hopelessly crippled and imbecili It was obvious to Dr. Haiselden the the child would never be normal.

Among its other misfortunes was a defect which would cause death within a matter of weeks, unless an operation was performed quickly. With the parents' permission. Dr. Haisselden failed to perform the necessary surgery, and the baby died. He hadn't done anything to bring on death, but neither had be done anything to prevent death.

A coroner's jury acquited him any responsibility, but the Chica Medical Society forced him to right his membership. A storm public debate raged around his bea To justify his stand, he starred a mution picture based on the cas "The Black Stork." He later mon to Cuba and died within four year and church pulpits and neighborhood barber shops argued the right and wrong of the verdict. Several more mercy killings obviously inspired by the Blazer case, followed soon after.

The next to arouse nationwide interest was the Greenfield case in New York. As usually happens other mercy killings followed soon af-

POET'S CORNER

THE MANTLE OF THE SNOW

The passing Autumn leaves the ground, Softened indeed, by frequent rains, but drab, And giving evidence of decadence and death The trees have shaken from their lofty heights The leaves, which, underneath, moulder and decay Into their winter's nests all hidden from the sight of men The little animals have gone, withdrawing Both their flash of colour and their little sounds

Which in summer tell us life is there.

All nature has returned upon Reelf, Frigid winds bring from the North, Is wont to grip my heart as on it all I look, seeing nought but death and desolation.

The sun upon my window beats
And looking thence I see the transformation E'en a night can make when God has sent His blanket of the snow

The erstwhile signs of death and desolation Have disappeared as if a magic wand Had waved commandingly above, and voice With power had spoken, 'Be thou clean'.
The chill of winter winds no longer have effect; The sense of beauty and of restfulness Together grip my soul:

That underneath this blanket of the snow Is no longer death, but that slow miracle Slowly and all unseen His loving purpose works

For all mankind.

To all of us in life there comes the time When we are conscious most of drabness And the searing hands of Autumn take from us

Of leaden-eyed despair

But in His presence the days come as flake upon flake

Upon the cold surface of the ground, until Time through Him has granted us the blanket of beauty

And protection. All unseen the Life that is The spring time of the Soul is at work,

And soon the lovely flowers of the Summer Will unfold themselves to yield

Their fragrance and their blessing Upon all mankind.

LIFE ON THE FARM

CAN BE DANGEROUS
Most people are prone to regard the farm as a fairly safe place on which to live but there is nothing to substantiate this in the figures recently readed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. On the contrary there is plenty of evidence to indicate that the farm is a very hazardous place to live and work. The bureau has found that 30,000 out of an estimate 37,300 non-fatal accidents in Canada last year occurred on farms.

red on farms.

The Bureau breaks down its findings as follows:
Open trap doors and inadequately protected stairs gave rise to the most frequent injuries and strangely enough these injuries from falls were more of a hazard to young and old persons, than those in the intermediate age groups.

mediate age groups.

Persons from 20 to 40 years of age, however, suffered injury almost as frequently from cutting and plercing tools, or from crushing while handling agricultural machinery.

The prairies, with about one-third of Canada's farming population, had 60 per cent of the accidents, due to the greater degree of mechanization of agriculture in the west.

Miscellaneous accidents totalled 10,000 and a frequent cause was injury or runaway teams, also included under this heading were backfiring tractors and other engines automobile accidents, and poison-

Fields and woodlots acounted for nearly 60 per cent of the accidents. And barns and outbuildings were the next most common place of accidents, followed by injuries sustained in the farm house.

lowed by injuries sustained in the farm house. Not only do the greatest number of accidents occur in the prairie provinces, but the relative fre-quency of accidents is also greatest there, according to the survey, the safest province is Quebec."

According to figures given out at the inaugural

Educational costs are something which should be distributed as evenly as possible and it is hardly fair for one group of taxpayers to be burdened out of proportion to the benefits they derive. Of course there may be many factors which do not make themselves. apparent on the surface in connection with the dis-tribution of the cost of maintaining the L.C.L, but since there is some feeling that the proportionate pay-ments are out of line, it would be interesting to have the matter gone into thoroughly by Town and County

KICKING NATURE IN THE TEETH

KICKING NATURE IN THE TEETH In this health-conscious century it is rather sig-nificant that despite the lengthened life span of man he doesn't seem to be enjoying as good heakth as his ancestors. Henry Traulmann, M.D., writing in "Life Today", makes some very interesting observations on the causes of many modern ills which should cause every individual to sit up and take notice.

every individual to sit up and take notice.

"An estimated sixty-one per cent of top soils of the nation are gone. The remaining thirty-sine per cent are being overnimistated to produce the excessive crops with which we feed the hungry nations. The national picture is but a reflection of an international one, and hungre and extration will ever be with us if heroic corrective measures are not taken vigorously."

"It is from the living soil that man draws life and sustenance. That soil and life-giving waters have been the capital assets of our-nation. We are now witnessing the death of the soils and the loss of the nd waters."

"It is in the destruction of the earth's surface and in the loss of its ground waters that we must look for the causes of our allments. It is there that the scientist need to hunt for the origins of diseases and to search for the necessary remedies."

much to poor health."

In concluding his article Dr. Trautmann makes two striking recommendations: (1) Grow as much of your own garden produce as possible, but pay more attention to quality than quantity by returning or-ganic wastes to the soil. (2) Interest yourself in the Sources of your food because man is only as good as what he eats, and food is only as good as the soil on which it is raised."

WHAT IS HAPPENING IN LINDSAY?

Lindsay has lost, or will lose, within the next few weeks, two industries, thus decreasing its employ-ment potential by a considerable number of men and women. This is a serious situation and one which calls for careful observation on the part of town of-ficials in planning for future expansion of municipal services.

While it is true that both of the industries now bearing the town have offered, or will offer, their plants, for sale, there is no guarantee that new liduarity will replace them nor that the replacement, if of an industrial nature, will employ as many persons. Much has been said of Lindsay's industrial growth and while everyone would like to think that it is going to progress and really grow, the fact must be faced that of the new industries which came to town in recent years, two have been liquidated and, in ad-dition two of the older established industries have pulled up stakes.

These are factors which must be considered when the future needs of the town are being considered. Lindsay's in a position now calling for extreme caution, especially in view of the changing economic

WINTER DRIVING HAZARDS

WINTER DRIVING HACARDS
A contemporary, who mush have been anticipating such weather as we are experiencing today has made some timely observations on the need for extra care in white driving. He writes as follows:

Statistics show that the mileage death rate from traffic accidents rises as much as 50 per cent. during the winter, according to J. [O. Goodman, General Manager of the Automotive Transport Association of

LAUGH IT OFF

The judge had just awarded a divorce to a wife who had charged non-support. "And," he said to the husband, "I have decided to give your wife $50 a month."

"That's fine, judge," the man replied, "and one in a while I'll try to alth her a few bucks myself.

THE SUNDAY VOTE

There were several factors in the recent vote in Toronto on Sunday sport that were favourable to a decision against opening the doors to commercialized games. The Roman Catholic leaders and the Protestant Churches were together and had expressed themselves publicly as opposed to the proposal. The three Toronto daily sparse opposed editorally the movement to legalize commercial sport.

Someone has already hit upon the bright idea

To our way of thinking the "Eat More Eggs campaign could be a great idea if it received enough push to have it impressed on the minds of every Canadian housewife as well as those she is feeding. It has been shown in this first half of the twen-

WHAT ARE PRIME QUALIFICATIONS GOVERNING A TEACHER'S VALUE

At the recent annual assembly of the Ontario Sec-ondary Teacher's Federation a rather romarkable con-clusion was reported by a committee appointed to consider the question of pay-by-merit. The Committee has found that such intargible factors as personality, teaching ability, influence on the student were difficult to evaluate. This will be readily admitted. But when to evaluate. This will be readily admitted. But when the committe proceeded to express the opinion that "payment for personality would be undemocratic, in-effective, destructive of good buman relations, detri-mental to teacher morale and hence to the progress of the students," one is moved to exclaim "Demo what crimes are committed in thy name!"

From this the committee proceeded to consider that there are certain objective merits for which scheduled increases are warranted. These are additional qualifications above the minimum,—specialist standing, post-graduate degrees, additional certificates, attendance at refresher courses, etc. To which it can only be remarked that a teacher with personality, only of remarked that a teacher with personality, but who has not had the opportunity to gain all the academic honours, may be a much more effective and valuable teacher than others with strings of degrees valuance teacher than others with strings of degrees as long as your arm—personality, teaching ability and influence on the student being the highest qualification a teacher can have. When it comes to choicing a principal these are the primary and supreme consideration. As has been admitted, it is not easy for a Board of Education to differentiate between other teachers on this basis. But to rule these qualities out exchern on the basis. But to rule these qualities altogether, and to set up academic attainments as the only "merit" to be recognized in fixing salaries is to deny reward to the highest type of teachers and to reduce the economic standards of the profession to a uniform level of average mediocrity.

That Problem Of Friendliness

"IN CITIES many people are crowded together They have too little room to drive and park their ings, in the elevators and on the street cars and buses.

"Houses lean on one another in narrow building lots. Yet many people live next door to one another and never become really acquainted. "People in the cities acquire the feeling that people are too numerous, and, therefore, are unimportant.

"But in the country it is different.
"Recently a young man from a large centre-visited in a rural district. He was puzzled to notice the natives saying hello to all, acquaintances and strangers alike, and asking how they were.

"' What do they care how strangers are?" he asked

"But it must be that the natives do care, because they keep right on doing it.
"And they are right.

Each person is important, but it often takes the kindly country folk to prove it to us."

The Unhappy Cop

Probably there is no more maligned public servant than the policeman. More uncompilmentary nick-names are reserved for bim, more abuse is hurled (behind his back, of course) in his direction, and more dity looks are received by him than any other person to our knowledge. The reasons for this unhappy state of the person of to our knowledge. The reasons for this unnappy state of affairs are, of course' quite obvious. The policeman has a nasty job to do. He has to arrest people and often for petty offences. It is to his credit nevertheless, that he usually does his onerous duties unflinchingly.—Lethbridge Herald

No. 1 Peace Threat

Looking into the new year, State Department officials feel that the Tito situation is the greatest threat to world peace for 1950. Reason: The Soviets have committed themselves so completely and so repeatedly against Tito that they must do something. Diplomatic experts believe the usual rational character of Soviet foreign policy can't be counted upon in this case. There are strong emotions involved, both in the Soviet position in the Balkans and in Tito's own reactions.—Newsweek Magazine

50 Years Of Progress

A prescription for anyons suffering from a state of non-confidence in the future of Canada is to be found in a review of progress made in the past ten years. If that remedy is not wholly effective, we recommend a study of the past 50 years, a period which includes two world wars and a period of acute depression.

The person who duly notes the amazing development of this nation in the past half century, and can still feel that Canada has gone about as far as she can go may be considered an incurable case.
